

TRADING SUMMARY FOR THE WEEK ENDED 4TH JUNE 2010

The week concluded with the overall capitalisation of the market rising 0.01% closing the week at $871,162,631 compared to $871,074,015 the preceding week. Total volume traded stood at 17,453 valued at $47,736 with a total of three out of 17 securities trading during the week in 114 transactions. The hike in the number of trades is due to the execution of Fijian Holdings Limited (FHL) dividend re-investment trades.

SPSE Total Return Index (STRI)

The STRI closed at 1835.78 on the first day of trading, a 0.002% fall from the previous close due to a $0.01 price decrease in V B Holdings Limited (VBL). The accumulation index rose 0.18% on the next trading day due to Foster's Group Pacific Limited (FGP) reaching the closure of register date for the $0.15 dividend declared on 12th May 2010. STRI remained same on the next day of trading but rose 0.01% yesterday due to a positive price return generated by FHL. STRI closed at 1839.29, a 0.19% increase over the week under review.
